The “singing zoologist” is coming to our school!

Lucas Miller takes school author visits to a whole new level with his multi-media blend of rockin’ tunes, hilarious puppetry, and accurate biology! With incredible nature footage projected on an 8-foot screen while he performs, Miller keeps audiences riveted and puts some life in the life sciences!

In his 17-year career Lucas has performed for nearly two MILLION kids and been:

- declared an “American Masterpiece” by the Nat’l Endowment for the Arts
- featured in FORTUNE Small Business for his charitable donations to help sea turtles
- played regularly on XM/Sirius Satellite Radio
- a winner of high honors in the Parents’ Choice Awards, Great American Song Contest, National Parenting Publications Awards, NPR’s Mountain Stage Newsong Contest, and more.
- a proud member of the Texas Commission on the Arts’ Roster of Touring Artists since 2000

Critics, parents, teachers and kids rave about Lucas Miller:

Parents’ Choice Foundation:

"Lucas Miller is an irresistible teacher. His very real musical lessons about the animal kingdom score high marks for their clever mix of playful comedy and ear-pleasing, deft melodies."

Barbara Kingsolver, author/Pulitzer Prize finalist:

"I love this CD (Gotta Take Care of the Hive). I'm so glad to have discovered you!"

Librarian, Harker Heights (TX) Public Library:

"Thanks for providing quality, educational programming and unparalleled experiences for our youth."

Parent, Frederick, MD:

"We had the pleasure of seeing you at the National Zoo in Washington, DC, last year. We bought your CD and my son has not stopped playing it since. He knows every word. When he grows up he wants to be a zoologist and save the turtles!"

First grader, Poth Elementary, Poth, TX:

"He made me forget I was in school!"

Midwest Book Review:

"[Dr. DNA & the Anaconda Invasion] is a 'must-have' story for budding young zoologists and just plain fun to read."
